Stories

We had a ball reading the book Ten Apples Up on Top! We practiced balancing bean bags on our heads and laughed when they fell to the ground. We also read the books Color Farm and A Sheep Says Baa! I asked the kiddos what sound each farm animal made. They “mooed”, “quacked” and “clucked” like the animals do! We also sang “Old Mac Donald” and “Itsy Bitsy Spider” Our new themes for October are the shape Triangle and the color black.

Centers

This week we started our Farm theme. We played with foam farm blocks, made some farm related art work and played in the sensory bin. The kiddos enjoyed scooping red pasta and finding red fruits and vegetables hidden under the shredded red paper in the sensory bin.

Specials

We started our week with a beautiful weather on Monday, so we stayed and played outside. We practiced climbing stairs and taking turns on the slides. On Tuesday Miss, Katie introduced the class to so many new songs and puppets. She surprised us when she had a worm in her plush apple! We danced with Miss Katie and did a crazy version of Old Mac Donald. Miss Jenn read the book Goodnight Farm during Library on Tuesday and we drew with chalk on the front porch because it was raining outside. We also played make believe in the Firetruck and Thomas the Train tents! Miss Kayla helped us to tuck our chins and roll into somersaults. It was a great way to roll into the weekend!

Crafts

We tried glue sticks for the first time this week to glue together an apple and it's stem. Then we stamped our hands into green ink. Next we stamped our hands onto the paper to make the cutest handprint leaf ever! On Thursday and Friday we made black sheep with white cotton ball wool. We used our baby shark pinching fingers to pull apart the cotton balls and then glued it onto the black sheep.
